Forecast for Saturday 03 Jun 2023

Weather: Mostly clear skies overnight with some low cloud likely moving into eastern slopes through the early hours, but quickly breaking and clearing to give a fine and sunny day.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 80% for eastern slopes early on, 100% elsewhere.

Low Cloud and visibility: Banks of low cloud pushing into eastern slopes during the early morning with bases down to 400 m possible. Cloud will be relatively thin, with slopes above 600 m likely remaining above any cloud. All cloud will quickly break up and clear away to give clear skies. Visibility generally very good to excellent, dipping to poor in any low cloud.
